It also works at 500°above and 35°below. (will miracles never cease)

You've been hearing some extraordinary things about Mobil 1® synthetic motor oil.

Like taking you 25,000 miles without having to change it (or one whole year, whichever comes first*).

And giving the average car up to 10 extra miles per tankful of gas, with some cars tested getting up to 27 extra miles. (And that's better mileage from the first time you use it, unlike other oils that require a conditioning period.)

And as if that weren't enough, Mobil 1 offers yet another amazing benefit—it works when the inside of your engine reaches temperatures as high as 500°F. above, and when the temperature on the outside of your car goes down to 35°F. below. That means high-temperature engine protection and faster cold-weather starts.

So it's not surprising that people are willing to pay $3.95 for a can of Mobil 1.

After all, it is a pretty good price for a can of miracles.

Mobil 1 The oil that does it all.

Mobil 1 is available in Canada through Imperial Oil stations.

Candidates' Night

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Marion-Mattapoisett Area League of Women Voters will hold its traditional CANDIDATES' NIGHT on Sunday, October 22, at 7:30 in the Old Rochester Regional Junior High School Cafetorium. The new district senatorial candidates Roz Brooker and Robert M. Hunt will participate, and there will be speakers on the referenda ballot questions also.

We hope, also, to have the candidates who are running unopposed attend or send a representative so that we may understand their positions on various important questions including those on the November ballot.

CHILD ABUSE TOPIC OF OCTOBER MEETING

The October meeting of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club is set for Thursday, October 19, at 1:00 P.M. in the Congregational Church Hall. The Reverend Franklin E. Blanchard will address the group on the subject of Child Abuse. Reverend Blanchard is Pastor of Center United Methodist Church in Fairhaven and Long Plain United Methodist Church in Acushnet. Interested in the problem of child abuse for 20 years, Reverend Blanchard is a member of the Suspected Child Abuse and Neglect Committee (known as SCAN) and part of their Speakers Bureau in New Bedford. He also served on the Steering Committee to establish Pastoral and Counseling service of which Parent-Child Center in New Bedford is a part.

Following the program, Mrs. Victor Demski and her committee will serve refreshments. Friends and guests are welcome. Babysitting will be available.

LITERATURE GROUP TO MEET

The Literature Group of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club will gather for a meeting on Wednesday, October 18th, at 9:30 A.M. at the home of Bette Ashworth in South Dartmouth. The program will be presented by Mary Horrocks and Bert Kelley and will include a reading of Mark Twain's Sketch "Diary of Adam and Eve".

Rochester Mothers Club

Did you know that there is a chartered Mothers' Club in the town of Rochester? It is an organization formed for the benefit of Rochester's children; socially, educationally, and financially.

The past officers and club members would like to reactivate and make available the club resources and experiences to all interested persons. This group offers a means of making new acquaintances and participating in numerous social events, as well as involvement in town affairs pertaining to the welfare of our youth.

An informal gathering will take place at the Vestry next to the Town Hall on Tuesday, October 17th, at 7:30 P.M. Come and bring a friend.

For further information call Carol Vaughan at 763-4024 or Evelyn Benner at 763-5307.

Christian Church Service

WORSHIP SERVICE

On Sunday afternoon at 3:30 October 15th, a worship service will be held at the Christian Church, corner of Church and Baptist Streets in Mattapoisett. This is one of the original meeting houses of the town, has been beautifully restored and, also, serves the Mattapoisett Historical Society as a museum.

The Rev. Ellison F. Marvin of St. Martin's Episcopal Church, New Bedford, will conduct the service. Mrs. Arthur Potter will serve as organist. The trustees of the church extend a cordial invitation to all to attend the service.

Senior Citizens

MATTAPOISETT

The first October meeting of the Mattapoisett Seniors will be held Thursday, the 12th, at one P.M. in Saint Anthony's Church Hall. Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting.

Following the meeting, there will be a report on the results of the recent senior citizens' questionnaire. "Don" Welch and "Joe" Sylvia will deliver the report and welcome any questions and discussions by the seniors.

At the October twenty-sixth meeting David Alves, of Coastline Elderly Services, will report on the activities directed by his organization. Mrs. "Peggy" Sylvester, R.N., Administrator of District Nurses, will speak on services available to seniors at the November thirtieth meeting. The November ninth meeting will be the installation of officers. Refreshments will be served, following all meetings.

Mattapoisett Library

Please excuse the cold.

The library is undergoing a conversion of heating systems; there will be times in the next few weeks when we will be without heat. We will remain open unless the temperature drops much below comfort level.

"Free to be...you and me", a film for children of all ages, will be shown Saturday, October 14th, at noon.

Have you seen the library's rotating collection of Large Print books? We have a special display of these books in our Adult Reading Room this month. If you are interested in these books with large type and don't see a title you'd like, the staff will be happy to try to order it on Interlibrary Loan.

Letter to the Editor

REPLY TO EDITORIAL ON FOUR-WHEEL DRIVE VEHICLES

For the last two years I have owned a four-wheel drive vehicle and would like a few lines in the Presto to defend myself and many other drivers in regards to your article.

Your article was very informative and interesting. There are many, far too many vehicles on Sandy Neck Beach. The reason for this is very simple: the town of Barnstable receives $4.00 per vehicle for the use of the six or so miles of beach accessible only by four-wheel drive vehicles. The town sets no limit on the number of vehicles entering the beach. When the town of Barnstable decides to set conservation above profit the dunes will stand a better chance of survival.

At Provincetown, (the National Seashore) which up until now has been free to all properly equipped vehicles, limits the number of vehicles to two hundred per day. The area there is much larger than Sandy Neck and is under constant patrol by the rangers. Each year your vehicle must be inspected and a sticker given only to those carrying the proper equipment. A daily sticker is then issued to the two hundred vehicles. An inspection by a ranger can be given at any time and you must adhere to the requirements at all times. The vast area they have to patrol is much, much more than the area of Sandy Neck Beach.

In the two years we have used Sandy Neck Beach we have never been asked to show our equipment, or pass inspection. This year we were told we would have to get an inspection sticker. Every time we inquired about getting a sticker we were told they were too busy. Perhaps if they limited the number of vehicles they would have a little more time to patrol the beach.

There are fines for leaving the trails and now that the trails at Sandy Neck Beach are clearly marked the regulations should be strictly enforced. You shouldn't blame all the four-wheel drive vehicles for the damage caused by few. Considering the number of vehicles on the beach it is only a few causing the damage. Until the rules are enforced people will ignore them.

As for the litter, again I defend the number of users against the amount of litter on Sandy Neck Beach. There is very little and a great amount of it is washed ashore from boaters. If you have ever noticed the trash bins at the exit of the dunes you'd have to admit most four-wheel drivers take their garbage off the beach. Point: Ned's Point isn't used by four-wheelers and on any given day that place is a horrible mess.

Children's Museum

On Saturday, October 14th, the Children's Museum will be holding two fund-raising events. At the Museum Outdoors the first of a series of three Bird Seed sales for the museum will be held from 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. Sunflower seed, wild bird seed, cracked corn, sunflower hearts, and a limited amount of thistle seed will be available for off-the-street sales or phone orders. Prepaid orders have priority. The seed will be sold from the back parking lot off Longview Drive. The dates of the next two sales are December 9th and February 10th.

From 10-4 at the Children's Museum in Russells Mills, the second fund-raising event will be an all day "Trinkets and Treasures Sale". Sponsored by the Trustees of the Museum, the sale will be held on the lawn and, in the event of inclement weather, the rain date will be Sunday, October 15th. A wide variety of items will be on sale for all yard sale browsers. Donations for the sale are

Selectmen's Meeting

SHELLFISH BOUNDARIES SUBJECT

Willis H. Collyer, supervisor of the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources, met with Selectmen, at their request, to settle the question of town boundaries in coastal waters. Mr. Collyer said that for many years and to this day fishermen perpetuated the myth of neutral ground in the areas near town lines. He stated flatly that there is no such thing as neutral ground. How could there be, he asked; when one town meets another there is a line which when crossed puts you in the next town. The bounds, he said, extend along the borders to the shore and then out into the bay. There is no vacuum between, he said, to be called neutral. Mr. Collyer showed Selectmen the charts of the Mattapoisett, Fairhaven and Marion area and left one for town reference. He suggested that any other charts required be obtained from the Massachusetts archives in Boston. A dispute which arose shortly after the commercial scalloping season opened occasioned the Selectmen's request for the boundary information and Selectmen will send a letter of thanks to Shellfish Warden Joseph Pauline of Fairhaven for his assistance in that matter.

Mr. Collyer said that his department will be in the area to film documentary on bay scalloping. Officers of the department will board fishing boats to check for licenses and inspect the catch for seed scallops and also check the amount of the catch. The film will appear on Channel 27 TV at a future date to be announced.

"The receipt of your letter to all department heads in regards to taxes and the tightening of budgets for the fiscal year 1979 has had an effect on the Board of Fire Engineers as well as all Mattapoisett Firefighters.

"A recent meeting of the full Fire Department resulted in the unanimous decision to reject an increase in hourly pay (cost of living, step increase, or whatever) for the next fiscal year. The members of the Fire Department feel they are being well paid for the duties they perform for the protection of life and property for the residents of the Town of Mattapoisett and the surrounding towns.

"General expenses will be cut slightly for the next year but not to the point that will sacrifice the lack of necessary equipment for the efficient and necessary operation of the Fire Department for the protection of the Town of Mattapoisett and its residents.

"We sincerely hope we are not alone in this effort to keep expenses down to a minimum."

The letter was signed by members of the Board of Fire Engineers: Paul J. Bradley, Chief, Donald Wood, Clerk; George Heath, Walter Morgado and Robert Heuberger.

Selectman John DeCosta moved to send a letter of commendation to the Fire Department for this effort to control the budget. It was passed unanimously.

Fashion Show-Luncheon

Fashions by Ferragamo and by Calvin Klein will be featured in the Fall 1978 Folio Collections from Saks Fifth Avenue when Saks presents a fashion show at a luncheon sponsored by the Southeastern Massachusetts University Library Associates on Saturday, October 14th.

The fashion show and luncheon will begin at 11:45 A.M. in the SMU Residence Dining Hall.

Among the fashions to be modeled are Salvatore Ferragamo's classic wool cardigan with grosgrain trim and signature buttons. "They are made in the finest workrooms in Italy," says a Saks spokesperson, with the most exquisite topping to shirts and pants. They come in chocolate, tobacco, beige, grey or black.

"For fall 1978 Saks also recommends Calvin Klein's new proportioned coat. It's made of rich wool melton with shoulders extended, a front that's double-breasted, and a shape that's both soft and narrow with a shawl collar edged in silk braiding. It comes in walnut brown."

Chairperson of the program is Mrs. Bernard Baker, founder and first president of the Library Associates. She attracted the support of members of the community at large as well as SMU faculty and staff to work together to bring the number of volumes in the SMU library up to acceptable standards. She urges continued support of the library through donations and membership in Library Associates.

Mrs. Malcolm Morse having won the required Master Points in Tournament Bridge competition while playing with many different bridge partners has been advanced by the American Contract Bridge League to the rank of National Master. Her next objective is Senior Master status.

Winners in the regular weekly bridge tournaments held last week at the Southworth Library, South Dartmouth, are announced.

Monday evening, October 2, using the scrambled Mitchell bridge movement, Mrs. Morse and Paul Newton were first; Mrs. Milton L. Lipsett and Mrs. Helen Presnol, second; Mrs. Bryant C. Emerson and Mrs. Harold Banks, third; Mrs. John M. O'Leary and James Harris, fourth; Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Goldberg, fifth.

Wednesday morning: The Wednesday morning bridge tournament has been divided into two sections - Section A for those players with over 20 Master Points and Section B for those players with less than 20 Master Points. Each section will have its own group of winners.

In Section A the North-South winners were Mrs. George W. Liberty and Mrs. John S. Musser, first; Mrs. Walter E. Greenwood and Mrs. William Hall, second; Mrs. Ted S. Johnson and Mrs. Frederick J. Goundie, third.

In the East-West direction Mrs. Ellsworth L. Cunningham and Mrs. Henry J. Weidner were first; Mrs. Victor Kiarsis and Mrs. Philip Morgan, second; Mrs. Milton L. Lipsett and Mrs. Helen Presnol, third.

NEBCOA ANNUAL MEETING

Philip L. Hemingway of Mattapoisett was honored at the NEBCOA Annual Meeting held recently. Mr. Hemingway, a board member, was unanimously awarded "Volunteer of the Year". Philip Hemingway, a devoted community servant and area leader, "gave unselfishly of himself to the needs of others in serving his fellow man".

James Lamborghini of Mattapoisett was elected Vice-President at the same meeting. Other officers elected were: Peggy A. Derby, President; Elmer Cunningham, Secretary; and Philip L. Hemingway, Treasurer.

"The accomplishments of the organization this past year have been most outstanding. The goal of acquiring a Halfway House for women afflicted with alcoholism has been achieved. The Board Members are rewarded with the establishment of Melody House," stated Mrs. Peggy A. Derby while addressing the members following her re-election as President.

TIMBERLINE STOVE OWNERS LOOK FORWARD TO GETTING THEIR FUEL BILLS, JUST TO SEE HOW MUCH THEY HAVE SAVED!

Why Does The Timberline Stove And Fireplace Heat So Well?
Several reasons: unlike conventional fireplaces or heat stoves the Timberline needs very little oxygen. The combustion design turns wood into a charcoal condition—therefore heat is generated by coals and gases, not primarily by the flame. The unique baffling design keeps the heat in the stove for a longer period of time, enabling the thicker construction of the stove to absorb the heat, and thus keep your home at an even temperature.

How Many Square Feet Will The Timberline Stove or Fireplace Heat?
Our Stoves and Fireplaces, depending on the size of the unit, will heat in an average home that is properly insulated, from 1,100 square feet to 2,500 square feet.

How Long Will The Timberline Last?
Should last a lifetime because of the ¼" steel, firebrick lining and quality drafts and workmanship backed up by a five year unconditional warranty.

DIVISION OF CONTINUING STUDIES

Offerings such as "Man and Woman Alone: Coping with Separation and Divorce"; "Bio-Feedback: A New Frontier"; "Investing in Real Estate"; and "Home Food Production: Doing More with What You Have" have added a new look to the spectrum of evening courses at Southeastern Massachusetts University. They are offered as part of this fall's Personal and Professional Development Program of the SMU Division of Continuing Studies.

Most of the courses begin the week of October 16 and run evenings for eight or ten weeks.

"The Personal and Professional Development Program is a series of activities designed to meet the special needs of individuals -- to help them start new careers, get better jobs, save money, improve physical fitness, learn new crafts, and satisfy hidden yearnings," said Dr. Cheryl T. Ochs, director of the program.

"The emphasis is on practical application of skills and knowledge in an informal and participatory atmosphere. Programs are grouped as follows: personal growth, culture and the arts, new skills and recreation, health, career development, and professional development. The programs are open to all. They involve neither academic credits nor examinations nor prerequisites."

ANTONIO GATTORNO RETROSPECTIVE:
59 YEARS OF CHANGE, ACCOMPLISHMENT

Fifty-nine years of artistic achievement are represented in "Antonio Gattorno: A Retrospective", an October exhibition at Southeastern Massachusetts University. Paintings, drawings, and gouaches by the Cuba-born artist, who now resides in Acushnet, will be displayed from October 2 through October 29 in the SMU Gallery, located in the Fine Arts (Group VI) Building.

Gattorno, who was lionized by such writers as Ernest Hemingway and John Dos Passos for his sensitive and unconventional depictions of Cuban country life, has culled from his private collection over 70 works spanning a career which he launched as a teenager in Europe, and which he continues today in the studio of his Acushnet home.

At 74, Gattorno's thick mane of hair and neat mustache are white, but his large eyes remain bright blue and alert. He paints vigorously, combining realistic objects in unusual settings or associations. His artistic career has been marked by a commitment to excellence and by profound changes in style.

"I met Chagall in 1924 in Paris," Gattorno recalls in Cuban-accented English, "and today he's still doing the same things. I prefer change."

Gattorno won fame and notoriety in the 'twenties and 'thirties as a leader of the avant-garde movement in Cuba. The youngest person ever to win a Cuban government scholarship for the study of art in Europe, he left home at age 16 and rubbed elbows with many of this century's great artists -- Rouault, Miro, Picasso, Dali -- in Italy, Spain and France. He also developed a style of painting which was radically different from the classical 19th-century approach espoused by the academy in Havana.

Upon returning to Cuba after seven years abroad, Gattorno found himself censured

"...(Gattorno) tried to put all Cuba in (his paintings)...He painted the people of the long, sad, overfoliaged island with the skill and knowledge of a painter who could have become a great abstractionist, and he made some marvelous pictures. In the pictures is his delicacy, his aloof passion, his detachment, and his full understanding." When Hemingway died in 1961, Gattorno mourned, "He was just like an older brother to me."

It was Papa Hemingway who in 1939 urged Gattorno to emigrate to the United States in the quest for artistic freedom and acceptance. Gattorno had already visited the U.S. and had several exhibitions there. "I preferred to starve in the United States," Gattorno recalls wryly, "than in my own country." That same year, a friend in New York introduced him to Isabel Cabral, a pretty young New Bedford women who worked as a designer for a New York yarn firm. They were married the following year, and began spending their summers in New Bedford.

Gattorno had his first one-man show in the U. S. in 1935, in New York. Subsequently, he exhibited in many large cities here and abroad: the San Francisco Museum of Art, the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh, the Brooklyn Museum, and one-man shows in Paris and Rome. In 1936 he was awarded the Watson F. Blair Prize at the International Watercolor Exhibition of the Chicago Art Institute.

"I began to draw for my mother around age seven", Gattorno says. "When I turned 12, I said, 'Mama, I want to go to art school.' We told the authorities I was 13 so I could attend the academy of fine arts in Havana." Gattorno's parents allowed him to use the government scholarship for study in Europe at age 16, realizing he was exceptionally mature and well-motivated.

clude colorful and expressive studies of Cuban peasants. Major changes in his style and subjects, he says, began to occur around 1940. "In my early period, I painted people," he says. "But as I grew older I became aware of bigger things. I awoke from my siesta and found the real feeling I had left out of my work for years. I started to put messages into my paintings."

He turned to surrealistic landscapes, symbolic compositions, religious subjects, and historically significant events and people. A Bosch-like Gattorno canvas from the early 1940's, for example, depicts Hitler's rise to power.

Antonio and Isabel Gattorno are now "retired" year-round at their Acushnet country home, surrounded by flowering shrubs, Gattorno paintings, and a burgeoning family of cats. "I feel I had a mission, like a priest," Gattorno says of his career as an artist. "I had to say something, and through my paintings I did."

future.

One enterprising high school senior in the nation will win a $10,000 scholarship as the top national prize in the Century III Leaders' Scholarship Program. Two students from each state and the District of Columbia will win $1,500 scholarships and the opportunity to talk with national leaders in a conference at historic Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia. And, before the national winner is announced in Williamsburg, nine finalists will have earned $500 awards on top of their $1,500 scholarships. Two state alternates from each state will receive $500 scholarships.

"We feel the program is very worthwhile for reasons in addition to the scholarships and the Williamsburg trip", said Mr. David S. Hagen, Principal of the school. "We are encouraging seniors to participate because the Century III competition is a fine way for youngsters to become more involved with the community and social issues."

A Special Invitation . . .

from BIFF

One of the nice things about being a representative in this area is being able to enjoy close relationships with so many good people. I always look forward to my organization's meetings, and many people have expressed the same feelings to me. The meetings give us a chance to see some of our old friends . . . and meet quite a few new ones, too.

It's always an enjoyable time.

And along with the camaraderie, we get a good deal of planning and work done, too.

I'd like to extend a special invitation to all my old friends, as well as my many new ones, especially those in Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester to attend our next meeting on Sunday morning. I'm looking forward, once again, to seeing you all there!
